Indian Machine Tools Industry: Looking Ahead

India is the only large economy predicted to grow significantly in the coming years and this estimate is largely based on the huge domestic demand of India. Additionally, in a world seeking 'reliable supply chains' and 'friendshoring', the government of India's determined pursuit of foreign investments with investor-friendly policies has made India a fast-emerging destination for global manufacturing. The unprecedented foreign direct investment (FDI), M&A and technology collaborations have also brought along world-class manufacturing technologies and international quality standards. Adoption of cutting-edge manufacturing technologies like 3D Printing is increasingly becoming common.

Today, many international auto manufacturers have their plants in India and many more are on the anvil. The Indian defence industry and the Indian space industry have now opened up to the private sector. The domestic aviation market is pegged to be the 3rd largest in the world by 2024. Large investments in Infrastructure, Heavy Engineering, Ship Building and Railways have all resulted in a huge demand for capital goods and machine tools. Similar investments are also seen in diverse sectors such as Consumer Appliances, Textiles Machinery, Construction Equipments, Agricultural Equipments, Medical, General Engineering & others. At the inauguration of 'IMTEX FORMING 2022', Ravi Raghavan, President, Indian Machine Tools Manufacturers' Association (IMTMA), said "the industry is expected to reach Rs. 9,500-10,000 crore in 2022-23". Industry leaders believe the machine tools market in India is poised to grow substantially during 2020-25, probably at a CAGR of nearly 13 to 14 percent.
